Total Logistics Solutions, Inc. Founder Named To Supply & Demand Chain Executive's 2007 Pros to Know

Rene' Jones Named to Leading Business Magazine's Annual Listing of Top 20 Supply and Demand Chain Professionals

Burbank, Ca. —March 1, 2007 — a leading supply chain consulting organization, announced today that Rene' Jones, the company's founder and CEO, has been named to Supply & Demand Chain Executive Magazine's fifth-annual listing of Top 20 Pros to Know in the February/March 2007 issue.

The Supply & Demand Chain Executive Pros to Know is a listing of individuals from supply and demand chain executives who exhibit deep domain knowledge and innovative thinking within the industry. According to the publication, through a dedication to continued improvement in supply chain technology and process innovation, these individuals have worked to help supply chain management professionals by equipping them with the proper tools.

"This year's Pros to Know have shown themselves to be thought-leaders in their respective supply chain segments," said Andrew K. Reese, editor of Supply & Demand Chain Executive. "Their efforts in developing the tools and processes necessary for supply chain transformation, and in promoting new approaches to supply chain enablement, have earned them a place on this year's Provider Pros listing."

With over 16 years experience in supply chain management, Jones leads all Customer Development and Technology initiatives designed to ensure TLS customers achieve increasing value year after year. He is responsible for the success of the organization through his speaking and books as well as LogisticSociety News, TLS's quarterly publication.

"We congratulate Rene' in this achievement! Through his focus on customer success and satisfaction, our customers have received additional economic benefits in their pursuit of world-class, warehouse management," said Tiffany Victor, Executive Vice President of the Consumer Affairs Department,
